

Nutrition Society of Sri Lanka (NSSL) Presents

Annual Scientific Sessions – 2023

21st & 22nd January 2023 at Colombo

“Exploring New Horizons and Strengthening the Food Systems for Health and Nutritional Well-being”

Evaluation Criteria Prof Priyani Soysa Research Award 2023

Criteria	Allocated marks up to
1. Manuscript is based on original research on children in relation to the health and nutrition of children	15
2. Has led to innovation/patent/novel finding	15
3. Type of Indexing of the journal
Category 1: Recognized Indexed journals: i. Science Citation Index Expanded (SCI-E)* ii. Social Science Citation Index (SSCI) ii. Arts and Humanities Citation Index (AHCI) *SCI full will be given priority	25 –SCI OR 20- SCI-E OR
Category 2. Journals that are non-indexed, but included in the world accepted ‘journal Ranking systems’ i. Clarivate analytics Master journal list ii. SciMago Journal list iii. Directory of open access journals (DOAJ) iv. Journals hosted by ‘Ubiquity Press’ v. Journals listed in ‘Sri Lankan Journal online’	10

4. Number of citations of this manuscript (submitted) in the other manuscripts/policy documents/thesis	(0.5Xeach) 15
5. Contribution to the international scientific literature in relation to the health and nutrition of children	10
6. National relevance and contribution to the local scientific literature and for the uplifting of the health and nutrition of Sri Lankan children (will be useful in policy making)	10
7. Publication based on collaborative work with NSSL	05
8. The overall quality of the paper	05
Total	100